IS PLOT VICTIMCounsel for Defense Says
Hatred Basis of ChargeDisputed Loan Is Explained in Opening AddressAttorneys Finish; Testimony to Commence Monday

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Opening statements of counsel were completed today and the way was cleared for introduction of testimony Monday in the trial in Federal Court here of Charles R. Forbes and John W. Thompson for defrauding the government in the allocation of veterans' hospital contracts while Forbes was head of the Veterans Bureau in 1921.

The enemy of Elias H. Mortimer, chief government witness, was incited by Forbes, according to defense counsel, when Forbes notified one contractor he could do no work for the Veterans Bureau if Mortimer was his agent.

This whole case is built upon a cleverly constructed fabrication by Elias H. Mortimer, declared Col. J. A. Eash-Smith, Forbes's counsel.

"In the fall of 1921 Mortimer began to spread a small part of these charges against Col. Forbes, but no one in Washington paid any attention to Mortimer. This story grew as Mortimer obtained additional information from government files, but of all these thirty-two events charged in this indictment, only three are even open to suspicion."

Counsel for Thompson, a St. Louis contractor, told the jury he would prove that Thompson never had a dollar invested in the companies which obtained veterans' hospital contracts and never did on but one project, the bid in that case being rejected as too high and the contract going to another bidder.

EXPLAINS LOAN
The $15,000 loan from Thompson's father, James W. Black, now dead, was covered in detail by Thompson's counsel, Rudolph Loughlin, who said that Forbes was charged with receiving $5000 Thompson participated in this loan to Mortimer only if Black solicited Mr. Loughlin to do so.

About that time, William Sutherland of St. Louis, a contractor, with his assistant and Mortimer met Forbes in his office at the Veterans Bureau to talk over Veterans Bureau hospital contracts in which Sutherland was interested, Mr. Loughlin said. Forbes advised Sutherland he would get no contracts as long as Mortimer was associated with him, Mr. Loughlin declared, and that night Mr. Williams of the Sutherland-Corcoran Company staff "publicly denounced" Mortimer.

Mr. Loughlin has launched into a vigorous denunciation of Mortimer, described by government counsel as "the paid informant of the government," when Judge George A. Carpenter restrained him, suggesting that personalities be confined to testimony.

"OVERT ACTS" CITED
The defense today indicated its line of witnesses would depend largely on the extent of the government case. Defense counsel in opening statements reviewed many "overt acts," only remotely related to the awarding of veterans' hospital contracts. Among these were the Goodell case, in which Thompson sued in the Court of Claims for $100,000 more than the government paid him for the steamer Goodell salvaged by Thompson and taken over by the Navy during the war.

The defense indicated a surprise was in store in the story of the Mortimer $15,000 loan in Chicago. Loughlin reviewed the circumstances under which Mortimer appealed to James W. Black, Thompson's father, for the money, and Forbes's counsel asserted the payment to Forbes of $5000 would be shown to have been "physically" made, and there the defense halted in its opening outline.

When building workers of Christiana, Norway, struck recently, they tied up all construction activity completely.

precipitated by Senator Edge, New Jersey, when La Follette's name was reached on the roll call. Senator Edge stated he was surprised that there should be invited to a Republican conference a Senator who had invaded New Jersey during the recent campaign and actively supported George Record, Edge's opponent on the third party ticket.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED

Senator Spencer, Missouri, then moved that a committee be appointed to devise "ways and means" of disciplining the deserters from the party. This action proved unnecessary, however, when Senator Reed, Pennsylvania, introduced the following resolution which was finally adopted:

Resolved, that it is the sense of the conference that Senators La Follette, Ladd, Brookhart and Frasier be not invited to further Republican conferences and be not named to fill any Republican vacancies on Senate committees."

In taking a vote, the resolution was divided into two sections, first as to invitations to future conferences and second as to filling vacancies on committees. Both carried by viva voce vote.

Senator Howell, Nebraska, spoke against the adoption of the resolution simply because he votes for some reason for taking such action at this time when a new Congress was simply being organized. Senator Howell, introduced a resolution covering practically the same ground as the Reed motion.

He was a candidate for office on another party ticket and made no pretense of being a Republican.

The motion was seconded but was lost by an overwhelming vote.

CURTIS NEW LEADER
At the outset of the meeting Senator Warren, Wyoming, senior Senator present, took the chair and announced he was not a candidate for leader. Senator Curtis was then placed in nomination by Senator Capper, Oklahoma, the nomination being seconded by Senator Eklund, West Virginia. Senator Curtis was elected unanimously.

The new leader, in a few words of acceptance, stated he thought it advisable to hold more frequent meetings of the steering committee than in the past. It was his opinion and also that of many others of the conference that the office of Vice-Chairman and Whip should be divided into two separate and distinct offices because of the different character of duties to be performed. This met with the approval of the conference and Senator Curtis was named Vice-Chairman.

Senator Curtis then appointed Senator Watson to the vacancy of Chairman of the Senate Committee on Commerce. The conference, before adjournment, empowered Senator Curtis to name the new Whip. This will be done within the next few days. It is probable that Senator Wesley L. Jones, Washington, will be the appointee.

COLUMBUS (O.), Nov. 22.—Re-examination of the three older members of the Sheatsley family, and a report of scientific experts to the prosecutor that brownish crimson stains on a pair of trousers and a red liquid in an upturned fruit jar lid found in the Sheatsley home are not human blood, were developments today in the Bailey furnace mystery.

Twelve days ago the body of Mrs. Addie Sheatsley, 50-year-old widow of C. V. Sheatsley, was found practically cremated in the furnace of the parsonage of Christ Evangelical Lutheran Church in the fashionable Beasley district. Since that time all efforts of authorities to ascertain how her body came to be in the furnace have been to no avail.

Senator Howell, Nebraska, spoke against the adoption of the resolution simply because he votes for some reason for taking such action at this time when a new Congress was simply being organized. Senator Howell, introduced a resolution covering practically the same ground as the Reed motion.

some 11,000 Sudanese and 9000 Egyptian troops. The latter now are virtually all withdrawn and it had been proposed to convert the Sudanese troops into a sort of military police. It is suggested here that today's trouble might be connected with the men taking a new oath to the British sovereign. In any event as long as Egypt itself remains quiet, little apprehension will be felt regarding the Sudan, because the Sudanese are more opposed to Egyptian sovereignty than to that of the British.

Hamam MacDonald, former Premier, in a speech at Aberdeen tonight indicated what was to be the policy of the Labor opposition to the Parliament of the Egyptian affair. He declared that the manner in which the Baldwin government had handled the crisis does not give Great Britain great harm in the eyes of the world. Mr. MacDonald declared that he wished the murder of Sir John Macdonald, the British minister in Khartoum, to be made the occasion for an ultimatum, had been the basis for an approach which would have convinced the Egyptian government that its policy was wrong.

Mr. MacDonald sternly deprecated the British government's threat to cut the cotton supply to Egyptian cultivators. It was a very foolish move on a question which was not concerned with the political issue that was responsible for the death of Sir John Macdonald; it was a mistake to mix up the cotton supply with the political issue.

The motion was seconded but was lost by an overwhelming vote.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 22.—Edward Grieb, real estate agent for the city of Milwaukee; H. G. Tank and E. W. Barry were sentenced today to five years in Levensworth prison and fined $10,000 each by Judge F. J. Geiger in Federal Court on charges of devising a scheme to defraud and conspiracy to defraud in connection with the $1,000,000 stock of the United Food Stores Company. A year sentence was also given on a nineteenth count, using the mails to defraud, the sentences to run concurrently.

These three were the heaviest imposed on the twenty defendants in the case. Punishment for the others ranged as low as a five-day fine to a sentence of two and one-half years in the Federal penitentiary.

Judge Geiger overruled all motions for a new trial and judgment, but granted a five-day stay of execution to enable those who received prison sentences to appeal their case to the Circuit Court of Appeals in Chicago.

Mr. Grieb even hinted that he would carry his case to the United States Supreme Court. He resigned his position as real estate agent for the city, but his resignation was shelved by the Public Land Commission.

Loss, Review Board Told

MONROVIA, Nov. 22.—Lack of co-operation between the county and the Federal government in the early stages of the San Gabriel brush fire was scored at the meeting held here tonight of the Federal Board of Review investigating the fire.

City Manager Scoville said that when he saw the fire coming toward the Monrovia watershed, which was burned over by the fire, he offered District Ranger Anderson men to build firebreaks. He said it took five days to get an answer, and expressed the belief that the delay caused a great loss.

Scoville also said the County Forestry Department could not be brought to co-operate with the government forces after the second outbreak of the fire until pressure had been brought to bear. Asked by a member of the board what present he had been brought to bear, Scoville said a delegation went to one of the County Supervisors. Present was the County Forester, the board was to the effect that the county forester offered assistance to the Federal men from the very start of the fire.

Others who testified were City Engineer Gierlich, who said he had no criticism. Fire Chief Stevens and Lieut. L. E. Kane, commandant at Ross Field.

The lack of experienced fire fighters, confusion in issuing orders and sending food and water to the fire lines were among other matters discussed.

The fire will meet at San Bernardino tomorrow.

FLEET HEARSE IS MYSTERY
Midnight Dashes of Funeral Car Attributed to Part of Rum-Runners' Traffic System
Greeley (Col.) Nov. 28.—In the dead of night, after the last bus had come from Denver and the midnight train for Chicago has left La Salle, a big black hearse steals out of Greeley and as soon as it has left the city limits accelerates its pace to forty or fifty miles an hour on the concrete road to Denver.
Who drives the funeral car, what is its cargo and why the terrific pace, are things local undertakers, officers of the law and motorists can't explain.
That the big death car is part of a transportation chain, carrying bonded liquors from the Canadian border, is one of the most frequently suggested explanations. The al system, than to throw them in the scrap heap and let the millions of immigrants be the better for American labor because it meant that more were employed in manufacturing.
FOR TAX EXEMPTION
Mr. Davis promised that when he returned to the United States he would be a "booster" for the project of exempting Americans in business abroad from the income tax. He paid a tribute to Dr. Honorio Pueyrredon, Argentine Ambassador to the United States, who was present at the luncheon, for his work in strengthening the amicable relations between the two countries.
The Secretary concluded by saying that when his parents emigrated from Wales it was virtually a treaty between going to the United States or joining the Welsh colony in Chubut, Argentina.
Mr. Davis was received this afternoon by President De Alvar.

CLEARED IN BLACKMAIL OF PRINCE
Robinson and Wife Held Blameless in Conspiracy Against Indian Potentate
LONDON, Nov. 28.—The famous Robinson case came to an amazing end today with the complete vindication of Charles Robinson, bookmaker and sporting man, and his wife, Florence, accused of having participated in the blackmailing of a mysterious Indian potentate of hundreds of thousands of dollars. Robinson was suing the Midland Bank for $575,000, said to have been the proceeds of the blackmailing plot of the potentate, referred to in the case as "Mr. A."
At the end of speeches by the lawyers for both sides, Justice Lord Darling put a series of questions to the jury in answering which they said it was their opinion there had been no conspiracy to blackmail "A," but neither Robinson nor his wife had been a party to it.
A series of technical banking questions were then put to the jury and on hearing them Lord Darling said he would have to hear legal arguments in light of these replies and he will set a day to be agreed on by counsel.

TO AID STATE IN McNAMARA CASE
Eph Inman, Widely Known Lawyer, to Help Remy
Won Fame as Prosecutor in Trial of McCray
Question Whether Darrow Will Assist Defense
INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 28.—Eph Inman of Indianapolis, one of the most widely known criminal lawyers in Indiana, is to aid William H. Remy, Marion county prosecutor, in the prosecution of John J. McNamara, business agent and secretary of the Bridge and Structural Iron Workers' Union of Indianapolis. McNamara is under indictment on four charges of blackmail, which resulted from the special grand jury investigation of a two-year labor war in Indianapolis and Marion county, besides some of the other large cities of the State.
Mr. Inman won fame a few months ago when, as special prosecutor for the United States government, he prosecuted the mail fraud case against Warren T. McCray, at that time Governor of Indiana, which resulted in a verdict of guilty and a sentence of ten years in the Atlanta (Ga.) penitentiary.
ATTORNEYS CONFERENCE
Mr. Inman's connection with the McNamara case became known today when Mr. Remy failed to appear at his office in the Court house and was found in the office of Mr. Inman. When confronted with the question, he admitted that Mr. Inman would aid him in the prosecution. Mr. Inman said he was retained in the case last Monday after Judge W. W. Thornton, special judge in the case, demanded briefs on the arguments for motion to quash the indictment which were filed by Charles E. Cox, former judge of the Indiana Supreme Court and counsel for McNamara.
Mr. Inman said he has been retained by some of the best and most influential citizens of the city. He denied he was employed by the Associated Employers or the Master Builders' organizations. He can say I am retained by private interests, that is all," was his only reply.
APPEARANCE OF DARROW
Inman's appearance in the case has again raised the question of the appearance of Clarence Darrow, prominent Chicago criminal lawyer who defended McNamara when he was tried in Los Angeles for his part in the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times Building. Darrow's name was connected with the defense when the labor leader was arrested October 4 by Claude M. Worley, chief of the Marion county prosecutor's staff of investigators who had obtained the evidence that resulted in the indictment. Cox, however, refuses to affirm the rumor.
Inman will make his first official appearance in the case in the morning when he and Remy will file the briefs for the State in defense of the indictment. Cox's motion is based on the allegation that the indictments are not specific enough in that they do not set out the words used by the labor leader in his asserted threats when he was attempting to force contractors to use union iron workers instead of nonunion men.
Mr. Inman says that is not at all necessary, that the fact the threat was uttered and the proof of gain if threat would have proved successful, is sufficient.
STATE PIONEERING
He does not deny, however, that the State is pioneering in its prosecution. The case is the first of blackmail ever to be tried in Indiana, where money was not demanded or changed hands. Mr. Inman, in quoting the statute, says it is only necessary to obtain the evidence of the threat obtain some pecuniary advantage to constitute blackmail. "If we win, we will make legal history," he said.
Atty.-Gen. U. S. Leah also will aid the prosecution, as will Byron E. Elliott, legal research expert. Counsel for the prosecution say they intend to use more than sixty witnesses in the trial and the evidence will be overwhelming. "To say nothing of sensational."
Judge Thornton said he would take the briefs tomorrow, study them Sunday and try to be ready either to quash the indictments or set the trial date Monday.

KANSANS AT CHICAGO WIN STOCK PRIZE
Junior Judging Team Takes First Place in Noncollegiate Contest
CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—The junior live stock judging team representing the State of Kansas was awarded first place in the noncollegiate live stock judging contest held here today as a preliminary feature to the International Live Stock Exposition which is to open tomorrow and continue until December 8. Twenty-one States had teams entered.
The Nebraska team took second honors with Oklahoma third and Minnesota fourth. Members of the winning team are Karl Garrett, Edgar Webster and Ralph Gross, all of Burlington, Kans.
The Missouri team took fifth place and the others followed in order:
Colorado, North Dakota, Indiana, Arkansas, Michigan, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, Iowa, Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky, West Virginia, Illinois, Georgia, Tennessee and Nevada.
When the President and Mrs. Coolidge view the live stock exposition on December 4, some 11,000 head of the finest cattle and horses in the world will be ready for inspection. The Prince of Wales show herd arrived last night and special trains continue to unload more and more animals.

Root and the Songstress
At one of the "Musical Evenings" a very attractive lady was once asked to sing an aria from the Italian composer's opera "Borham," but before agreeing to do so she made all the usual excuses habitual to the affected and insincere. On being further pressed, however, she bent toward Root in a languishing manner.
"Oh, dear master, I am afraid!" she sighed.
"So am I," brutally answered the composer.—[Scottish Musical Magazine.]

MAKE your reservation now for one of these delightful tours. See and learn the wonderful development of suburban properties. The changes taking place each month are a revelation.

Suburban home locations are increasing in price. Now is the time to look things over. Select the site for that suburban home you have been planning. Waiting will mean taking what's left at a higher price. A small first payment will now secure a very desirable homesite. Build later when you are ready.

At the town of Girard, you will be amazed at the developments that have taken place. We are enthusiastic over the future of this community, and will talk a lot about it. But it will be interesting. Remember, you are not obligated...accept this invitation today.

Values up to $39.50 $19⁵⁰

Fashioned of satin, faille, bengaline, charminette, twill, flannel and flat crepe.

Adhering, all of them, to the long slender mode . . . and with such incidental divertissements as are provided by godets, minaret and apron effects . . . ensemble dresses, too, in this grouping . . .

The shades are those of rust, navy, brown; Titian, sand, shutter, beige, various blues and black . . .

AT THE VILLE—THIRD FLOOR

Values up to $49.50 $29⁵⁰

Dresses distinguished for many reasons (style, fabric, economy . . .) but chiefly for their variety . . . since here are dresses for street wear . . . for afternoon occasions . . . for dinner and evening parties . . .

Dresses taking the most advantage of the vogue for buttons, bandings of marabou and fur . . . tucking, shirring, gold cloth . . . braiding, embroidery . . . describing the comprehensive mode for soft fabrics . . .

Here are satin dresses, flat crepe dresses . . . those of charmeen, georgette, jacquards, broche.

AT THE VILLE—THIRD FLOOR

Values up to $59.50 $39⁵⁰

The materials are charmeen, twill, broche, satin, bengaline, faille and flat crepe delightfully trimmed with embroidery, bandings of fur and marabou . . . ribbon fluting, tucking and beading.

For street wear, for afternoon . . . for dinner and evening wear . . .

Remarkable because of the variety of materials . . . because of the styling!

AT THE VILLE—THIRD FLOOR

DRIVERS PROTEST FRANK LOCKART'S VICTORY IN ASCOT ROAD RACE

WHEEL KINGS SIGN PROTEST

Winners' Car Failed to Make Qualifying Trial

Action May be Started by Disgruntled Drivers

Course Not Five Miles, Is Claim

The victory of Frank Lockart in the Ascot Gold Cup Thanksgiving Day has been formally protested by the competitors in the race, it was learned last night. The protest was made by George R. Bentel of the Ascot Speedway Association, having been given a signed statement yesterday afternoon.

The four men who signed the protest are F. O. (Cannonball) Baker, who won the race, J. J. (Doc) Moffet, who was second, and two others. They claim that Lockart's car was not in the qualifying trials as required by the rules, and that he was not permitted to compete in the race. Baker retained W. Bentel as an attorney last night to handle the case, and declared he is willing to go to the limit of the law.

DRIVERS FACE PROTESTS AT WILMINGTON

The demand has been so insistent from all quarters that the Wilmington Athletic Club, which is holding the race, has been forced to postpone the event until after Thanksgiving. The club has been threatened with a lawsuit by the drivers if the race is held as planned.

TURN'S BACK ON SUPERSTITION

Babe Ruth, not the home-run king, but the platoon prince, who played three years at Beloit, is one of the mainstays of the Pasadena Athletic Club's forward wall. Babe weighs around 250 pounds and is expected to star today against the California Aggies at Tournament Park. He has never played a game without number 13 on his heavy back. Incidentally, Babe earns his beam by acting at the Fox Studio.

Davis Farm Gridders Face Tuffy Conn's Eleven at Tournament Park This Afternoon

Local grid fans will not be without their football today with Tuffy Conn's Pasadena Athletic Club eleven tackling the California Aggies from Davis at Tournament Park in the only tankard attraction of the afternoon in this part. The Pasadena team has gone through a rough schedule undefeated this season, trimming all the tough Navy eleven and all the other opponents it could find. Crews City fans are confident Conn's crew will add another victory to its string today in "Hubs" Kinsale, former U.S.C. star, Chet Doherty, Tro-

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE ADOPTS PLAYER DRAFT

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—The International League, meeting in executive session here today, adopted the modified form of draft which was accepted last year by the Pacific Coast League and the American Association. Lawrence Solomon, president of the Toronto Club, who was one of the league's strongest opponents of the draft in the past, proposed the adoption of the modified draft, which was carried unanimously. The text of a resolution adopted by the international league follows: "Be it moved and seconded that any club that so desires may take optional players from the major leagues and players by sales agreements from the major leagues under an agreement which has proven that any player so acquired shall be subject to 'selection.'"

CARTER KAYOES ADAMS

Tommy Defends Title by Stopping Johnny in First; Roberts Beats Mike Dempsey in Semi-Windup

Tommy Carter can keep right on being Pacific Coast lightweight champion as far as Johnny Adams, former holder of the crown is concerned. Before a packed house last night at Hollywood, Mr. Carter socked Mr. Adams so soundly to sleep in the first round that the San Bernardino boxer probably doesn't care anything about titles any more.

The opening round was about two-thirds over when Carter whipped over a crushing right to Adams' chin as Johnny was backing away. Adams dropped like 135 pounds of lead and lay calmly on the canvas while counted out. George Blake could have counted 155 and then went down the flat backwards and Adams wouldn't have been able to get up. He crawled to his corner by seconds, where he finally came to after a five-minute nap.

In the fourth fight of the evening, Billy Hart took a very bad beating from Joe O'Connell after four rounds. The fight was a one-sided affair, with Hart being knocked out in the fourth round. The crowd was estimated to be one of the largest in the city.

CULVER CITY TRACK READY

Throttle Pushers Open Practice This Morning for Postponed Inaugural Championship Race

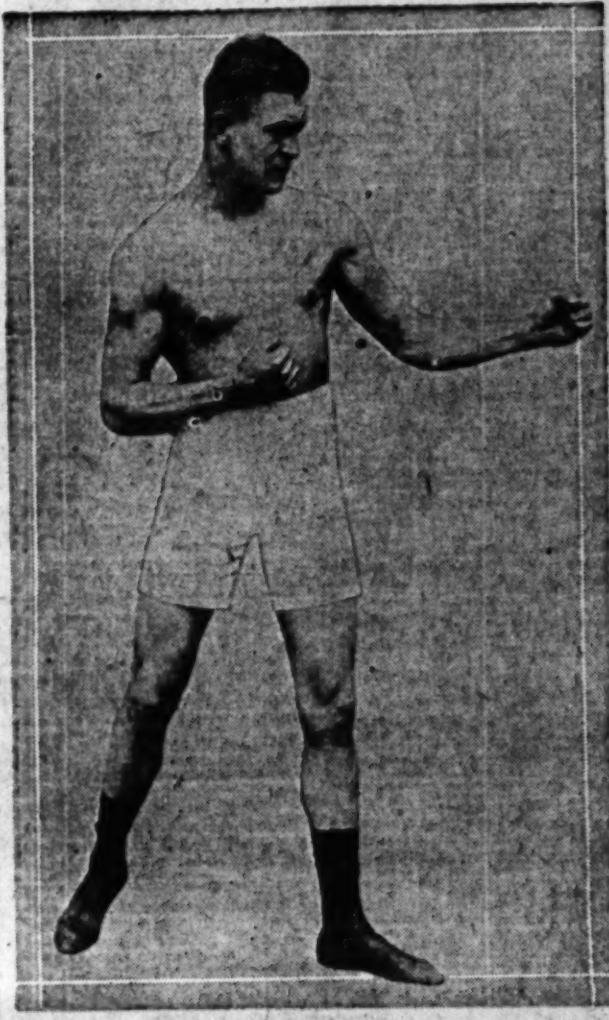

Man-made motors in the form of the fastest racing automobiles in the world will begin hurtling around the new $1,000,000 Culver City boardway this morning for the first time. They will be piloted by a score of the most noted drivers of America and Europe who are to compete in the inaugural 150-mile classic on the new boardway Sunday, December 7. The Culver City boardway is a masterpiece of engineering, built by the Culver City Boardway Corporation. It is a half-mile long, with a quarter-mile straightaway and a quarter-mile turn. The track is built on a hillside, and the view from the grandstands is magnificent. The inaugural race is expected to be one of the most exciting of the season.

LOYOLA ELEVEN DISBANDED

The Loyola Lions have completed one of the most successful gridiron seasons in the history of the college, and consequently have disbanded another rung in their patient climb for admittance into the Southern California conference. They battled the local University of California to a scoreless tie, and held Caltech to one touchdown. Next season they hope to include more conference members on their roster.

Judge Ballard Gives Mexican Permission to Go to Newark for Bout December 13

According to a report from Newark, N. J., Tony Fuentes, Mexican heavyweight sensation, has been matched to meet Charlie Weinert, who recently defeated Luis Firpo, at Newark in a twelve-round bout to be held December 15. Fuentes, who was one of the participants in the recent Fred Fulton race at Culver City, was yesterday granted permission to leave the State by Judge Ballard. However, Fuentes must be back to testify when the Fulton trial comes up in Superior Court. The date for the trial has not yet been set.

NOTRE DAME STARTS WEST DECEMBER 26

Having decided, from seeing the experience of other teams that it is best to arrive in California just in time to play their game, Coach Knute Rockne's Tanks and Horns will not start for Pasadena, where they are to meet Stanford New Year's Day, till December 26. Football's greatest general plans to bring a squad of about twenty-five men to the Coast, and plans to have only one workout before the game. Pop Warner at Stanford has got his squad back in the traces again, but is only working them lightly at present. The Cards will leave for the south on Christmas Day.

GWYN WILSON IS HOME FROM EAST

Gwynn Wilson, U.S.C. general manager who slipped out of sight as completely a couple of weeks back, returned home yesterday after a fifteen-day jaunt in the East and Middle West. Wilson announced that he visited fourteen of the leading institutions of the country and watched how they handle things. He also stated that he had arranged no inter-sectional games for next year because it is impossible to do so until conference schedules are made out. Wilson saw Notre Dame, Princeton, Northwestern and tributes their success to speed, precision of play and wonderful handling of the ball.

Powerful Syracuse Eleven on Way to Coast

Tickets Selling Fast for Game on December 6

All of U.S.C. Players Are in Perfect Shape

Syracuse University's great eleven is on its way across the continent for its big game with the University of Southern California Trojans Saturday at the Coliseum. Right after administering a 9-to-0 drubbing to Columbia at the Polo Grounds, Chick Meenan trampled his powerful Orange creation on a limited bound for Los Angeles. And while the Orange gridders from Salt City are on their way here, Coach Elmer C. Henderson is driving the Trojans hard every evening in order to have them ready for their assignment to repel the attack of Syracuse. The Syracuse game will either make or break the Trojans, who have had an in-and-out season.

The Trojan squad as a whole is in its best shape since the season started. All players are in perfect shape for the University of Southern California's last stand this year. Henderson will have the services of Kiddle, Earle, Kaser, Hawkins, Lefebvre, Cook, Green, Larnette, and other backs to shoot at the invading Syracuseans. If the hot weather keeps up Henderson will probably start a fast team of backs composed of Lefebvre, Kaser and Lee to run the Orange outfit until its respective tongue is dragged over the Coliseum turf. Then "Gloomy" will have Kiddle, Earle and Larnette to attempt to crush the overheat by having them stop over two days in Albuquerque, N. M., for workouts. Syracuse will not arrive in Los Angeles until the Friday before the game.

BUSHER SIGNED FOR WESTERN LEAGUE TEAM

George Gottlieb, who is now playing ball with the Glendora Winter League, and who played with the Mean Jewels last summer, has been signed for the Lincoln (Neb.) Western League for the coming season. Aside from being a classy fielder, Gottlieb is a wicked boy with the willow, having hit .317 while playing with the Jewels.

Army Mule and Navy Goat Will Meet Today in Annual Battle for Gridiron Supremacy

TWO ACADEMY ELEVENS MIX

Baltimore is Scene of Big Football Game Today

Odds Favor West Point, but Hard Tilt Expected

Annapolis Midshipmen Are in Excellent Condition

BY A. P. MIGHT WITH

BALTIMORE (Md.) Nov. 28.—The Army mule and Navy goat are primed and ready for their annual gridiron tussle.

Tomorrow the rival services elevens will battle for football supremacy with the odds of victory favoring West Point, but with all indications also pointing to the likelihood of a spectacular and closely fought game.

With its scene laid in Baltimore for the first time since this gridiron classic was inaugurated in 1895, the 37th game of the long series will be fought out before the greatest crowd that ever gathered to witness a college football game.

Both West Point and Annapolis desire to break the deadlock of their long series, which stands at twelve victories each with two ties recorded.

Army, with its individual stars and a far more impressive record over the 1934 season so far, is expected to play a more aggressive attack, but the Navy, despite the loss of five games in seven starts, has pointed its preparations for this main objective and will go in to the fray tomorrow firm and confident.

Navy banks heavily upon her forward wall, which outweighs its opponents an average of more than ten pounds a man, to check the onslaughts of the Army backfield stars, particularly Wilson, around whom the Cadet offense is largely centered. Behind the line, the Midshipmen have an all-around threat in Shapley, veteran back, and dangerous weapons in Phipps and Williams, but these are not ranked as highly as Wilson, Gilmore and Bill Wood, whose mighty toe will be an important factor.

An eleventh-hour shift in the Navy line was announced tonight by Coach Bob Fowell, after the Midshipmen had been through their final drill at Annapolis. The change involved the displacement of right guard, the Chillingworth, a Hawaiian, Eddy, a Saratoga Springs, N. Y. Eddy's greater weight and ability at placement and kicking made him the choice in the final test, although Chillingworth also is an adept at kicking.

Final reports from the Midshipmen's camp where it was said, all the players are in excellent condition also indicated a lively battle had taken place for the center job, with Osburn of Greensboro, Ind., who has held the post most of the season, winning out over Zuber of Elizabeth, N. J. Here again, weight was a deciding factor, as Osburn has a fifteen-pound advantage over his rival.

The Cadets also were pronounced fit and ready to put their full strength on the field.

White Sox and Pirrone Stars Resume Scrap

The L. A. White Sox, composed of eastern colored stars, and Joe Pirrone's All-Stars will resume their three-game feud this afternoon at the Echo Park Coliseum, where they clash in the second contest.

In the first game Thanksgiving Day the White Sox defeated the All-Stars by a score of 4 to 1, but Pirrone attributes that defeat to the fact that Babe Herman, his star slugger, was out with a split finger.

Pirrone will have Pete Scott, Kansas City star, when the Washington club, which he has sold today, and figures to win and even the series. Herman will be able to play tomorrow in the final game, if not today.

The White Sox will rely on their star sluggers, Moore and McNair, to batter the All-Stars into submission. Cave and McDrew will hurt for the Stars in the two games, while Drake and Bell will team for the colored squad.

ECHO NINE RAMBLES OVER MOVING MEN

A six-week-old dispute was settled Thanksgiving when the Echo Park No. 3 team whipped the Pioneer Truck Company by a 10-to-3 tally at Echo Playground. Six weeks as the two teams fought a seven-inning battle, which ended in a 2-to-3 tie. Thursday the Park men showed which was the better team, thus ending their dispute.

Four runs in the second inning put Echo off to a lead which they never relinquished in Thursday's contest. McCabe, who pitched for the Park, was tapped for eight strikes, but the way he handled himself when in a tight place would have been a credit to any pitcher. Kershaw of the winners swung a wicked wilow throughout the contest, getting three hits out of five trips to the plate, one of which was a homer.

TROUT EGGS ARRIVE AT GARNSEY'S RANCH

Plenty of sport is promised the members of the Rainbow Angling Club during the 1935 season by Manager Leigh Garnsey. A few days ago a shipment of 500,000 eastern brook trout eggs arrived, and in the near future shipments of 100,000 German Browns, 50,000 native black spotted and 2,000,000 minnows are to come in.

FOLWELL EXPECTS BATTLE

Navy Coach Ready for the Best Army Gridders Can Hand His Men

BY A. P. MIGHT WITH

BALTIMORE, Nov. 28.—Navy will "fight to the last ditch," Bob Folwell, head coach at Annapolis, said tonight in a pregame statement, while Capt. J. J. McEwan declared his eleven was keyed up for its greatest effort.

After asserting his men were not overconfident and predicting a closely-fought game, Capt. McEwan said:

"This Army team has a characteristic which no other Army team or any other team that has come within my knowledge has had, and that is a spiritual disposition to achieve victory in the minds of the players like a football team. The Army team this fall, when things were against it, has come back like a well-trained cobra that knows nothing but attack."

Pointing out that both service teams always rise above themselves for their annual battle, Head Coach Folwell expressed his belief there is little to choose in weight and fighting spirit.

"The Army's showing against Yale and Notre Dame," he said, "and our showing against Princeton and Penn State demonstrated that both teams have the drive and ability to win the game, and neither will be below par in condition and finish."

"Victory over the Army never comes easy, an overconfidence of our part would be West Point's downfall. The Army is trained to play in a dangerous, but it must not be crossed, for Navy men fight to the last ditch."

Leutenant-Commander Frank Singlet, Jr., star center on the Midshipmen's line, said in an official football representative at Annapolis predicted that "the Army is going against something stronger and better than any team it has faced this season."

Five Races at Tia Juana Track Held Before Flames Sweep Stables

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 28.—In spite of the fire, which destroyed part of the accommodations for horses here today, five races were held as per schedule.

The first race of the afternoon had just been run when the flames were seen to shoot through the roof of the clubhouse. The fire, which started in the stable, spread rapidly and soon had taken place for the center job, with Osburn of Greensboro, Ind., who has held the post most of the season, winning out over Zuber of Elizabeth, N. J. Here again, weight was a deciding factor, as Osburn has a fifteen-pound advantage over his rival.

The Cadets also were pronounced fit and ready to put their full strength on the field.

White Kings Play Tigers in Two Tilts

Steve Broder's White Kings and the Vernon Tigers will furnish the baseball excitement of Washington Park tomorrow, when they clash in a double-header, the first game starting at 1:15. The Soxers polished off Ventura during the week and are in great shape for the twin bill.

Doc Grandall and George Payne are scheduled to hurl for the White Kings, while Artie, who has been sold to Brooklyn by Portland, will be the Soxers' pitcher. The Soxers polished off Ventura during the week and are in great shape for the twin bill.

In Bus Ariett, Dick Cox and Wally Hight, the Soxers have practically a major-league outfield. Cox has been sold to Brooklyn by Portland, while the Soxers polished off Ventura during the week and are in great shape for the twin bill.

Bodapest will soon have its first large department store.

Farrell and Cruickshank Meet Mitchell and Duncan in Florida Next Week

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

TAMPA (Fla.) Nov. 28.—Two of the youngest professional golfers in America will oppose two of England's veterans, on the Palma Cota links here Sunday, December 7, when Johnny Farrell and Bobby Cruickshank, representing the United States, will oppose Abe Mitchell and George Duncan in a thirty-six-hole match. The match will mark the first appearance in Florida of the famous British team, as well as the first time that Farrell and Cruickshank will team together.

Farrell and Cruickshank have been engaged by D. P. Davis, local millionaire sportsman and realtor, to stay here for the winter as Tampa's professionals. Johnny, who is the second medal player of the year, is only 23 years old, while Cruickshank, another ranking player, is four years older. Judging by their records they should form an ideal and winning combination.

It is likely that Farrell and Cruickshank will enter the match as favorites, inasmuch as the invaders will be making their debut on their present tour, and may feel the lack of practice.

OBSERVATIONS

BY THE INSTANTANEOUS BILL HENRY

When Stanford plays Notre Dame in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena on New Year's Day we ought to see a wonderful and exciting football game. The present feeling that Notre Dame can outscore Stanford or any other team will probably be somewhat modified by the day of the game, although Notre Dame will undoubtedly play a heavy favorite because of its remarkable record against top-notch teams. Union we've very much mistaken this game will break all records for attendance at the Tournament of Roses contest.

Notre Dame will unquestionably "beat the works" against Stanford. It will be Notre Dame's first appearance of the year and the last appearance of its famed backfield, all of whom graduate together with the team.

Stanford will be in a somewhat difficult position and will have the advantage of being the underdog in popular opinion. Stanford may be counted on to play a real game, but the Cardinals have a team that won't be routed by anybody and Stanford's huge and fast backfield will be a real threat to the Cardinals.

St. Augustine Scene of Gala Aquatic Carnival

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

ST. AUGUSTINE (Fla.) Nov. 28.—For the first time in history, the southern district of the A.A.U. will hold the national winter women's swimming championships. Official notification of the award to St. Augustine was received today by the Alcazar Athletic Association, under whose auspices the state meet will be held February 9 to 13.

The gala meet here will be special for another reason. It is the first time since the inception of the championships that the winter championships have been awarded in bulk to one organization. The Alcazar, which has staged the event, will be known as the Triple-A Club—newly formed, and it is noteworthy that its bid to hold the championships was accepted without debate or discussion, inasmuch as the A.A.U. officials were confident the competitors and spectators would be treated with the southern hospitality during their stay here.

The success of the meet is a foregone conclusion, judging by the entries received to date for the five-day carnival. The names of those who have signed their intention of competing are known all over the world, and every one of these teams is expected to win some of the prizes.

The Alcazar, which has staged the event, will be known as the Triple-A Club—newly formed, and it is noteworthy that its bid to hold the championships was accepted without debate or discussion, inasmuch as the A.A.U. officials were confident the competitors and spectators would be treated with the southern hospitality during their stay here.

The success of the meet is a foregone conclusion, judging by the entries received to date for the five-day carnival. The names of those who have signed their intention of competing are known all over the world, and every one of these teams is expected to win some of the prizes.

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

ST. AUGUSTINE (Fla.) Nov. 28.—For the first time in history, the southern district of the A.A.U. will hold the national winter women's swimming championships. Official notification of the award to St. Augustine was received today by the Alcazar Athletic Association, under whose auspices the state meet will be held February 9 to 13.

The gala meet here will be special for another reason. It is the first time since the inception of the championships that the winter championships have been awarded in bulk to one organization. The Alcazar, which has staged the event, will be known as the Triple-A Club—newly formed, and it is noteworthy that its bid to hold the championships was accepted without debate or discussion, inasmuch as the A.A.U. officials were confident the competitors and spectators would be treated with the southern hospitality during their stay here.

The success of the meet is a foregone conclusion, judging by the entries received to date for the five-day carnival. The names of those who have signed their intention of competing are known all over the world, and every one of these teams is expected to win some of the prizes.

DAILY CROSSWORD PUZZLE

Every number in the form represents the beginning of a word, reading either horizontally or vertically. If there is a black square to the left of the number, the word is horizontal; if above it, the word is vertical. The same number may of course begin both a horizontal and a vertical. The definitions for the correct words to fill are found below, with numbers corresponding to those on the form. Run through the definitions till you find one that you recognize, and put it in the proper place on the form, one letter for each white square. This will furnish several cross-clues to the words making with it at right angles. Continue in this manner till the form is completely filled. If you have solved the puzzle correctly, it should read both horizontally and vertically with words corresponding to the definitions.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Bullish

operations were resumed with vigor in the stock market today, prices sweeping forward under the leadership of representative industrial issues. Heavy accumulations of buying orders infused new life into trading, which ignored the three advances in the call-money rate to 4 per cent during the day and gained increased velocity as sales expanded.

Tangible evidence of business improvement reflected in reports of increased operations in the steel industry and the favorable October earnings statements of the railroads, contributed to the strength of today's market.

STEEL POINTS WAY
United States Steel again assumed leadership of the advance, selling at-dividend $1.75 a share.

It more than recovered from a price deduction and reached a level equivalent to the highest since 1917. It closed with a net gain of 1-1/2 points on the day. Other steel shares participated in the advance, many of them gaining their previous high records.

Eighty-two 1924 high records were established on sales approximating 2,400,000 shares, a volume of business which has been attained only two or three times since election.

Demand for the industrial stock was unusually broad, embracing in addition to the steel shares many prominent motor, merchandise, chemical, food, public utility and copper issues.

Among the many stocks from these groups to record new maximum prices were Studebaker, Maxwell, May Stores, Mallinckrodt, Allied Chemical, the Commercial Solvents issues, American Smelting, International Nickel, Texas Gulf Sulphur, United States Realty, and several others.

Called upon to make heavy volume of trading sales, the market still maintained its equilibrium, although prices of some of the most active issues tapered off slightly at the close, following the rise of the money rates.

MONEY COSTS MORE
One of the most interesting developments of the day was the rise in call money to 4 per cent, the highest rate since May 28. Shifting of funds incident to collating of loans and the rate during the day after renewal at 3-1/2 per cent.

Time money remained unchanged. Foreign exchange trading was featured by an advance of 10 points in French francs to 8.55 cents, which followed an announcement that informal discussions had been held regarding the funding of the French.

The Dutch guilder sold at the highest point in five years, about 18 points above parity, and demand sterling held steady around $4.62 1/2.

(SPECIALS DISPATCH)

LAS CRUCES (N. M.) Nov. 28. In order to determine whether or not a hydroelectric plant to cost between $3,000,000 and $5,000,000 shall be constructed in connection with the United States land reclamation project at Elephant Butte Dam, which forms a water storage reservoir for irrigating large areas of land in the upper Rio Grande Valley, a survey of the market for electric power will be made by Henry Doherty, chief engineer of the United States Reclamation Service, with headquarters in Denver.

It was stated by Joe W. Taylor of Las Cruces, president and manager of the Elephant Butte Irrigation District, that there has been spent this year $100,000 in making surveys and specifications for auxiliary storage dams to serve the proposed hydroelectric plant. It is estimated that the cost of the dam and transmission lines will be about $7000 a mile. He said that the proposed power transmission system would consist of water wheels ready in existence between Las Cruces and Fabens, Tex., including the Elephant Butte Dam. He was interested in and near El Paso.

Agricultural development of the Rio Grande Valley, all the way from the mouth of the river to Fabens, approximately 125 miles, has made wonderful strides since the Elephant Butte Dam was built. The project has increased to the total production of cotton upon land irrigated by the project will be more than 70,000 bales this year. The cotton crop which has been ginned and picking is still in progress. The total production last year was 28,000 bales. The cotton crop is expected to be or leaf winter ravages this year. Last year the devastation extended to the cotton crop.

Seventy thousand will bring the farmers a total revenue of about $8,000,000. This is more than the total revenue of the entire state in the project last year, the amount for that year being $5,000,000. In-

Today on the body of the slain banker, the first autopsy on which the coroner's jury returned a verdict of violent death was performed by Dr. Tinsler and Hill of San Bernardino.

The second autopsy, it was admitted by Sheriff Shay, was called for because of the discovery of new evidence in the case. Whether this evidence is connected with the discovery of an empty soda water bottle and an exploded .38-caliber shell in the vicinity of where the banker's body was found was not indicated yesterday.

Upon the result of the second autopsy, Sheriff Shay said, is expected to revolve an entirely new angle in the mystery.

Sheriff Shay also questioned at length Mrs. Fee, the widow of the slain banker, their daughter and others who had seen Fee on the day of his disappearance. This was done as the first step of a thorough check of all the evidence uncovered so far in the case.

The search which could have been used to indict the frater of Fee's skull, was found by searchers in the vicinity of the street where the banker's body was found. Deputy Sheriff Kishner found near by the exploded shell of the same make and caliber as the one which is said to have been in the hand of carrying. It is one theory that the murderer may have been carrying the weapon away with him or may have thrown it away near the body. No weapon has been found yet.

Finger prints of the slain banker were taken yesterday at the undertaker's, where he was lying in state. These will be compared with fingerprints found in the "green cabin" near the Watkins home, which is the "green cabin" that investigators found a bloody handkerchief with strands of hair caught in it.

Dr. Tinsler, who was called for the autopsy, said he was not sure if the blood was shed by Fee in a desperate battle for life. A sample of blood will also be taken for analysis by an expert to compare it with the blood on the handkerchief.

Sheriff Shay was accompanied to Alhambra yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Ernest Leffen and Finger Print Expert Bottorff, Dep. Dist. Atty. Thompson and Dr. Tinsler, who was called for the autopsy.

When Mrs. Fee, the widow of the slain banker, was seen yesterday at the Alhambra, she appeared to be showing considerable grief. This attitude is said by friends to contrast with her cool demeanor since the body of her husband was found. She had not viewed the body of her husband yesterday, it was said at the undertaking rooms.

Unsolved Killing Given as Cause of Divorce Plea

The unsolved murder of Mrs. Anna L. Williams at San Diego, October 20, is mentioned in the divorce suit of Mrs. Cella R. Richards against Stephen Leonard Richards, filed in the Superior Court. It is recited in the complaint that Richards was arrested as a suspect and held four days, which caused Mrs. Richards great mental suffering because it exposed the relationship of Richards and Mrs. Williams to public view.

Richards is a metal trader. The couple were married in 1921 and separated Thanksgiving Day according to the complaint filed by Attorney Newton J. Kendall. He struck her on several occasions and in July this year began going out with other women. His acquaintance with Mrs. Williams began October 1 and lasted until Mrs. Williams was found strangled to death in a San Diego flat, according to Mrs. Richards.

Keep Dignified Silence in

Beneath the pall of tragedy that enshrouds the Fee home in Alhambra is a dignified silence. From there has come nothing of the sensational, no blurb, as the reporters say, nor sob stuff, nothing but silence. The household is content to look with confidence to the authorities to solve the mystery, tinged soberly with the misfortune, in which the wife wrapped the motive and manner of the murdering of William R. Fee, E. J. Aye, Mrs. Fee's brother-in-law, has taken charge of the house and stands beside the widow.

ALIMONY PAY ORDERED

Wife of Ex-Army Surgeon Given $50 Monthly Pending Divorce

Dr. Charles Eaton Phillips, former chief of army surgeons in the Panama Canal Zone, is now practicing medicine in Los Angeles, was ordered yesterday to pay $50 a month to his wife, Jennie Holland Phillips, pending trial of her suit for separate maintenance, after a hearing before Judge Guerin.

Mrs. Phillips, who declared that while she was on a trip East he wrote her that he was through with her, asked $400 a month in her complaint. One of the questions to be settled when the case comes to trial is whether the home place at 403 South Howard Boulevard is community property or the separate estate of the husband. It is valued at $15,000 in the pleading. Dr. Phillips said his income was not more than $500 a month.

and met with something like a rout, which was no fault of his, said Swinshart, but to the defeat of the army. Chang believed him at first and to prove it, executed one of his officers, the next morning. He accordingly slipped aboard the last outbound train and a day later reached Shanghai, still in the uniform of a general of Chang's army.

Swinshart was tired of the Orient anyway, he declared, and wanted to get back to the fast-moving game in South America. Hence his quick return to California. He will spend a week here before returning to the West Coast.

HEADED PERUVIAN ARMY

Swinshart came into international prominence in 1920, when he headed the revolutionary army of President Leguia of Peru. For his success in placing him in the Presidential chair, Leguia appointed Swinshart Chief of Police of the city of Lima. He stuck to the job until he received the offer of military adviser to Chang Tse-Lin, who, in 1921, was already laying plans for the war he opened against the Chinese government.

CONFIRMS PARASOL YARN

As an example of the indiscreet army methods, Swinshart told how Chang's artillerymen set up some guns on a barge to bombard river towns. Under cover of night the barge was towed into position and moored so that the guns were trained on the town.

At dawn, the gunners loaded their blanks and yanked the barge in the direction of the town. The gunners were so busy that they did not notice that the barge was swinging around with the tide.

The Greater Jefferson Improvement Association at the Jefferson Church, last night, heard a report showing that the city of the south-eastern section of the city, the route of the proposed Jefferson Boulevard and Exposition Boulevard extension has received the approval of the city.

For Exposition Boulevard all the proceedings are being rushed. Surveys, right-of-way, and the widening, paving and illumination of both Jefferson and Exposition boulevards, will be carried through to the city by the city.

Both boulevards will come together at Cochran and will proceed on a north-south line, passing between Wilton Place and Third avenue. From Third avenue to Angeles Mesa, a right-of-way of 400 feet is being secured.

Hughes declared the tag notified him to appear in Glendale Police Court yesterday but did not state the nature of his asserted offense, what law or ordinance was violated, what speed he was driving at the time of his arrest or the speed limit provided by law.

CHURCH DEMANDING FACTSDr. Howard Fagan, Recognizing New Trend, Will Give Christ's Philosophy of Life

Regardless of the outcome of the battle between Modernists and Fundamentalists and of the final decision on the question as to whether faith or reason should be accepted as the supreme guide to thought and conduct, theologians of all denominations today are compelled to recognize and employ their own minds in the search for truth.

The Jolly of Christendom is demanding a reason for its belief, seeking to ferret out the facts on which its faith is founded and insisting from an applicable interfaith basis of the sayings of the Master who promised that men should know the truth and that this knowledge would give them freedom. The true pastor who, as the word implies, is a "feeder" of his people, cannot and does not wish to keep his parishioners in ignorance of spiritual truths and more and more it is coming to be the custom of ministers to inform their hearers of everything which the ministers believe and know.

"What is Life?" is the subject of the sermon to be preached by Dr. Howard Fagan tomorrow morning at the Wilshire Boulevard Christian Church. "In this message shall attempt to show what the underlying philosophy of life as taught and exemplified by the Master," said Dr. Fagan. At the evening service a group of young people of the church will present a drama emphasizing the need for universal brotherhood.

PASTORS WILL DEBATE

Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher, pastor of the Wilshire Boulevard Christian Church, has agreed to disagree, temporarily, on two questions of faith and doctrine with Dr. E. E. Hudson, pastor of the Temple Baptist Church, in the morning debate.

Dr. Hudson will argue for the affirmative and Dr. Brougher for the negative. The subject for evening debate is "Resolved, that the golden rule is all the religion a man needs."

Dr. Brougher supporting the affirmative and Dr. Hudson supporting the negative. The subject for evening debate is "Resolved, that the golden rule is all the religion a man needs."

"GENESIS AND SCIENCE"

Dr. William MacCormack, pastor of the Paul C. Johnson Church, has been asked several questions which he will attempt to answer in his sermon, "Genesis and Science," tomorrow evening. The queries are as follows: "Do you believe man is descended from an ape? Why do we see people of today die of heart disease? What is the meaning of an intelligent person can be taught? Since no one can teach the children of the world, what do you think of the activity of the Sunday school? Do you believe in the resurrection of the dead? Do you believe in the resurrection of the dead? Do you believe in the resurrection of the dead?"

"HOUSE OF MAN"

Bill Boone, Illinois poet, humorist and philosopher, will give his famous lecture, "The House of Man," at the Hollywood Methodist Episcopal Church, South, tomorrow evening. The lecture is free to the public.

"FEMALE FREEDOM"

In response to requests and suggestions made to Dr. Herbert Booth Smith as a result of his sermon from the "Times" broadcasting station, "Divine Healing," Dr. Smith has arranged to conduct a "prayer for healing" service every Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the principal of the Hollywood Methodist Episcopal Church, South, beginning next Wednesday. In his sermon tomorrow evening Dr. Smith will discuss "Female Freedom from Marital Obstacles." Services will also be conducted in the morning.

Are dance halls of Los Angeles a greater menace than the picture show?" is the Southern California's saturated with moral insanity? These questions will be discussed by Rev. Bob Butler in his sermon at the Trinity Methodist Church (tomorrow evening). The subject for morning is "The Man on Horseback."

"MORAL COWARDICE"

"What Kind of a Tree Are You Like?" is the subject of a sermon to be preached by Dr. F. E. Oliver at the Church of the Open Door tomorrow morning. At 2:45 p. m. Dr. Oliver will speak to women only on "Storms of Marital Seas." The subject for evening is "Is Moral Cowardice Increasing?" The program for next Monday is as follows: Women's prayer meeting, 12:45 p. m.; Monday club meeting, 2 p. m.; Fishermen's Club, 8 p. m. A prayer meeting for business men is conducted every day at noon at 451 South Main street.

DR. GARDNER HERE

Dr. John Gardner, known throughout America and England for his brilliant oratory and his scholarly interpretations of the words of Christ, will be the preacher at the Ambassador Hotel Theatre tomorrow morning, preaching at the request of Dr. Frank Dyer, pastor of the Wilshire Boulevard Congregational Church. Dr. Gardner will bring a message from Dr. Charles F. Aked of St. Louis, who will arrive in Los Angeles with him.

FINAL RUSH STARTED BY TAXPAYERS

Courthouse Corridors Crowded; Line Extends for Three Blocks

(Illustration on Fifth Page)
The last minute rush of taxpayers has begun. With Monday as the last day on which county taxes may be paid without penalty the Courthouse was stormed by a crowd yesterday that filled the corridors of the building and extended in a line for three blocks. Because today is a half-holiday, Tax Collector Welch announced yesterday that he has made arrangements to keep his office open to receive payments until 5 p.m. He suggested, however, that taxpayers fill out checks for the amount of the first half-payment and mail them to him. Payments received up to closing time Wednesday were announced as $12,961,033.53. County Auditor Payne estimates, however, that the payments for the first half this year will total between $25,000,000 and $40,000,000. The total reported so far does not represent the total received, Collector Welch said, because a majority of the larger taxpayers have mailed in their payments. Huge stacks of mail have not been opened and probably will not be until after Monday.

Truck Line for Imperial Valley Granted Permit

Authorization for the first automobile freight and express service to operate between Imperial Valley points and Los Angeles was granted yesterday by the State Railroad Commission to the Imperial Valley-Los Angeles Express, P. M. Hodge, head of the Hodge Transportation System, and the San Joaquin Valley Transportation Company, and John D. Kwik is mentioned as partner. In its decision, the commission states that the Southern Pacific Railroad service is adequate, but demands of ranchers indicate that a choice of transportation is required. The new franchise to the auto company calls for a bus-hour trip between the city and valley points. High-speed trucks are to be used and the journey will be made at night.

Inquest Today Over Body of Slain Grocer

An inquest will be conducted over the body of Benjamin Weinstein, found shot to death within a block of his home Wednesday night, today at 10:30 a.m. at the Draper-undertaking rooms. Investigation by police has resulted in the theory that Weinstein, a grocer, living at 3565 Westmoreland avenue, was murdered by bandits whom he had failed to a hold-up attempt. Assistant Captain of Detective Bean announced that he anticipated an early arrest in the case. Reports of two previous hold-ups of Weinstein have been closely checked, and a number of leads have been obtained which are believed to lead to the capture of the probable slayers of the grocer.

Theatrical Man's Slayer Will be Tried for Murder

Ezekiel R. Southern was indicted yesterday by the county grand jury for murder, despite the verdict of a coroner's jury Monday which exonerated him for killing R. E. Mack in his office in the Frost Building a week ago. Mack, head of the Golden West Vaudeville Exchange, had Mrs. Ruth Southern, 19 years of age, in his employ as stenographer and Southern declared he had broken up his home. Southern, who was arraigned before Judge Crail, pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for December 11, with the understanding it will be postponed if the McCoy case goes on then. S. E. Hahn, defense attorney, gave notice that he would ask that Southern be admitted to bail. Dep. Dist. Atty. Dennison said the motion will be opposed.

CONVICTION ON DOPE CHARGE CONFIRMED

Judgment returned against E. Morosani in Superior Court for having narcotics in his possession illegally was affirmed yesterday by Justice Works of the Second District Court of Appeal. A decision was also handed down by Justice Works ordering Gerard Rybak to be admitted to practice law in the State despite a contrary recommendation from the State Board of Bar Examiners. Board recommendation was based on an investigation which it asserted showed that Rybak's practice of law in other States in the past was insufficient.

GIFT FROM PRESIDENT'S WIFE TO BE AUCTIONED

The Los Angeles Silent Club will have a bazaar in the club rooms at 845 South Figueroa street, tonight. Contributions have been received from all over the country. Mrs. Coolidge, wife of the President and who is a former teacher of the deaf, has sent a gift which will be auctioned. Mrs. W. H. Rother is in charge of the bazaar. The proceeds of which will be added to the club's building fund for a new clubhouse.

CHOOSING PROTEST FILED

MEMORIAL ROCK DONOR VISITS HERE

S. H. Venable Tells of Confederate Monument Near Atlanta

Samuel Hoy Venable of Atlanta, the man chiefly responsible for the creation of the Stone Mountain Confederate Memorial, the great project of its kind ever undertaken in the history of the world, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday for a few days' visit here, and is a guest at the Rossmore.
Mr. Venable is the owner of Stone Mountain, which is situated in De Kalb county, about sixteen miles east of Atlanta, and is said to be the largest single mass of solid granite on earth. He is the head of a firm that has operated a quarry at the mountain for many years.
The mountain is seven miles in circumference and rises to a height of 800 feet, said Mr. Venable. "There isn't a break or seam in it anywhere. It is solid rock from top to bottom as we have demonstrated several times in our quarrying operations."
The Stone Mountain Memorial, which has frequently been described since work was begun on it some time ago, is a bas-relief carving on one side of the mountain of the principal military leaders of the South in the Civil War, surrounded by groups of officers and soldiers and items of war equipment. This mountain side has been donated by Mr. Venable to the promoters of the memorial.
The carvings, when completed, will cover an area of the almost perpendicular wall of the mountain about 1000 feet long and more than 100 feet high. They will include several hundred figures.
The central figure will represent Gen. Lee mounted, and riding 310 feet from the top of his hat to the heads of his horse, said Mr. Venable. The other figures of prominence are Stonewall Jackson, John Stuart, John B. Gordon and President Jefferson Davis. Gen. Sherman and Gen. Grant are among the officers appearing surrounded by their troops.

Two Mysterious Deaths Result in Order for Quiz

Because a woman died under mysterious circumstances in the same house in September, Capt. Bright of the homicide squad of the sheriff's office yesterday requested an inquest into the death of Joe Muller, reported to have shot himself Thursday at 1403 Elwood street.
Muller, according to the report to the sheriff's office, had been released from the county road gang where he was serving for automobile theft and Deputy Sheriff Gregg and Freeman went to arrest him for violation of parole. Muller refused to let the officers in and a shot at one of them and then turned his weapon on himself, the report said.
On September 17, last, Cora Angie of 1349 East Garden street died suddenly at the same address. Capt. Bright said. Her death was said to have been due to heart disease while dancing.

MRS. O. A. ELLIOTT DIES

Mrs. H. Belle Elliott, wife of the late Dr. Orrin A. Elliott, died on Wednesday afternoon in San Diego. She was born in Pennsylvania and had been a resident of California for the past twenty-three years. She was 80 years of age at the time of her death. Surviving her are three sons, all ministers, and a daughter, Mrs. J. C. Elliott of the First Presbyterian Church, San Diego; Mrs. J. C. Elliott of the Southern Presbyterian Church, and Rev. Paul C. Elliott of the First Presbyterian Church, Los Angeles.
Funeral services will be held Monday, December 1, at 3:30 p.m. in the First Presbyterian Church at Twentieth and Figueroa streets. Dr. H. K. Walker of the First Presbyterian, Dr. Robert Freeman of the Pasadena Presbyterian Church and Dr. C. W. Wadsworth of the Presbyterian board will officiate.

ACTS TO STOP TRUCKS

Hall Body Rules on Auto Carriers Opposed Without Franchise
The Franchise Motor Freight Association, an organization formed for the purpose of protecting truck carriers operating under the jurisdiction of the State Railroad Commission, won its case before the commission yesterday in securing an order requiring the California Shippers, a corporation, and Harry W. Adams, Edwin A. Roberts and William McGee to discontinue immediately the operation of automobile trucks over regular routes in Los Angeles, Santa Barbara and Santa Barbara counties. The commission directed communications to District Attorneys in the three counties advising them of the asserted illegal operations of defendants and the action taken against them.
The commission in its findings held that the California Shippers and Stebbins, Roberts and Moore have operated their trucks between Los Angeles, Oxnard, Ventura, Santa Paula and Santa Barbara without franchise.

DE HAVEN LOSES FIGHT IN LANDSCAPING CASE

Carter De Haven, motion-picture actor, lost his appeal yesterday in the Second District Court of appeal, Division One, where a judgment of Superior Court awarding $150 to R. H. Berry for landscaping done on the De Haven property in Hollywood, was affirmed. Testimony introduced at the trial showed that Berry was hired by De Haven to landscape the grounds for $1500. Berry used De Haven for $150, which he alleged remained unpaid after the work was completed.

NOR A BARN DOOR
 The Times had a good joke on one of the stars of the other day. Although he had his best gun, he missed a train.

PARTY BUILDING
 It is not an easy thing to take a minor role and grow into a major party. It needs something more than the waving of hands or the mouthing of words.

AMONG THE CHICKENS
 Some of the chickens that come home to roost do not really know it. They have to be carried in by the chauffeur. They are a long way from Plymouth Rock.

KEY IN URINE
 According to an old salt, the average life of a derelict ship is less than thirty days. But there are some who can keep them going for thirty years.

THEY ALL DO IT
 Some of our ambitious flyweights would like to take a crack at Fred Fulton, the man who has been beating Licking Fulton much easier job than shoveling snow.

ONES OF GARBLES
 One of the members of the next Congress will be Lucius Garbler. If he is able to live up to his name he will feel very much at home in Washington. There are almost enough of him to form a clan.

LAW OF AVERAGE
 It is claimed that what goes up must come down, but there are a lot of investors who are feeling that this does not apply to some of the stocks in which they are dabbling. It is hoped that they are right.

IT COMES HIGH
 Another thing the hapless East is worrying over is the high cost of Christmas hosiery. When the retail price of highland socks goes up to $30 or $35 a quart the advantages of going with out begin to come to the top.

THE LAW AND THE LADY
 The price of women's dresses was regulated by Roman law into centuries before the Christian era, but practically all attempts at limitation since that time have been fruitless. The old Romans might have been able to get away with it, but the modern Americans are quite helpless before the problem.

OUT OF THE PAST
 A lot of venerable words that never hoped or expected to be again dragged into the light are being dusted off and given a chance to show themselves in the crowd word puzzle in the paper. Some of them have slumbered long in the dim pages of the dictionary and never knew that they had a breakfast coming.

SAFETY FIRST
 The latest owners of a large Illinois brewery asked the government to destroy 2000 barrels of perfectly good beer that had been in the cellars of the plant. They wish to sell the plant and do not want any cloud upon its title and therefore Uncle Sam is invited to join in the destruction. That should make it unanimous.

THE NEW IDEA
 New trains on the Santa Fe will be equipped with a special lounger for the ladies. It will have hot and cold baths, smoking room, barber shop, beauty parlor, manicure, lady's maid, music room and library. It will be supplied with all the luxuries of a city residence and at the same time be whirling giddily across the desert.

AMONG THE DEAD ONES
 If Egypt is sufficiently restful the task of opening up the slumber room of Tutankhamen will be resumed after the holidays. Englishmen and Americans join in the work, but the Egyptian government has the first pick of the discoveries if the King went to sleep in a diamond-encrusted nightgown. There is an understanding that encourages the explorers in their task. They will reap the rewards of discovery and also have a substantial share in the proceeds. There is always an itch for delving amid the ashes of the ancient.

FIRST IN PACE
 George Washington has been described by some of the statesmen at the national capital as an isolationist. The identification is based upon the farewell message of the first President, in which he cautioned his people against "entangling alliances." The assumption would be that any agreement or alliance created an entanglement. This, of course, is folly—but folly is something on which politicians thrive. It is noted that in his first Thanksgiving message Washington already recognized the part that the nation should take in world affairs. In that proclamation he asked the aid of the Almighty to make of this nation a government a blessing to all people and to enable us to "protect and guide all sovereigns and nations—especially such as have shown kindness to us." This was a rather large order at the time and we may have seemed parading to other peoples, but the first President did not hesitate to designate our preferred contacts with a larger world.

THE LAME-DUCK SESSION
 Senators and Representatives are on their way to Washington to attend the last session of what has been termed "the lame-duck" session. The session has already been dubbed the "lame-duck" session, receiving the appellation from the fact that so many members in the two houses were beaten for re-election.

The country knew months ago that these "lame ducks" represented neither the opinion of their districts nor their country. The election results have convinced them of this fact. Nearly the whole of them were connected with the opposition to the administration during the last session. The so-called La Follette group suffered more heavily than any other.

During the last session these men formed a kind of mutual admiration society. They were patronized by the labor-union and other groups that sought to use them to discredit the Coolidge administration and pave the way for a radical victory in November. They thought they were brilliant, when they were only stupid. Their attempt to introduce the European bloc system into American politics was thwarted by the voters of the country in the November election.

The greatest proportional loss of any group in Congress was that of the La Follette-radical following. The few of them who survived the administration landslide were elected by slender pluralities and they owe their election to the fact that their names appeared in the Republican column and many voters did not know that they had disgraced the name they wore.

According to reports from Washington, they will again press some of their radical legislation which held over from the last session. The personnel of this session was not changed by the election; but Congress knows what the country thinks of it. The defeated ones can no longer speak in the name of their districts or their States, for they have been repudiated. Their attacks on the administration will no longer attract attention, for the Coolidge administration has been endorsed by the greatest vote any administration ever received in American history.

They will still be able, probably, to block any constructive legislation during the present session, for their repudiation by the electorate will not be likely to change their votes. But they no longer possess the power to do any real harm; for it is hardly possible that the opposition can again rally enough votes to pass any legislation over the Executive veto.

Their will to do harm still remains, but their strength is shattered. They thirst for revenge, but are impotent. Senator La Follette and his three associates, Ladd, Brookhart and Pranger, have been formally read out of the Republican party. They will succeed to no vacancies in committee seats and will be excluded from party conferences. Their power for evil has been wrested from them; and their position as men without a party recalls that of the "Man Without a Country."

La Follette will hardly presume to speak again in the name of "the people," for everyone now knows what the people think of him and his policies.

Congress is perhaps no better than it was six months ago, although it is possible that some administration legislation may be passed during the final session. A number of men who will sit in the next Congress have discovered that they were on the wrong side of public opinion, and they will make haste to get on the popular side of the fence; for public opinion is a powerful force, in Congress as in the country.

At the present time, however, it looks as though the present session will be impotent to do either much good or much harm. It recalls the ancient French maxim: "One doesn't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear." The expectation of better things after next March will prove a stimulus to commerce and industry. Prospective investors know that the menace of radicalism and political interference with business has passed, and the country is already expressing in a very practical way its faith in the future.

LOOKING FOR FAMILY TREE
 Speaking from The Times broadcasting station, Rabbi Mayer Winkler made a ringing appeal to his widespread audience that family ties be more sacredly observed and that there be a return to the old virtues of the home existing in the days of our forefathers. The rabbi's burning words were part of a radio sermon on Thanksgiving in which he said it would be fitting that future generations should celebrate this national festival in the spirit of family reunion. But he remarked, in effect, the family of today has lost the old-time spirit. In the age of the automobile and the airship the family hearth has cooled; the bond of union is loosened. Parents are losing their influence over their offspring. He pleaded for a restoration of the old family bonds, the spirit of reverence for fatherhood and motherhood.

That this philosophy speaks to present-day conditions is hardly to be denied. There is evidence enough that the average home is not all that it used to be—that something vital has gone from it. Rabbi Winkler says that this something is faith, and it would seem that faith in and reverence for their parents are qualities with which modern children are not, as a rule, very strongly imbued. One hears of the unfaithful ways of our undisciplined sons and daughters—the girl that emulates the flapper, the boy that sneaks his father's car out of the garage and goes joy riding in equivalent company. Such young people regard paternal consent or sanction as wholly negligible. College to them is a purely social institution—a place to have a good time, in an irresponsible way with hardly a thought of what sacrifices may have been made to support them there.

Why is this? Is it because these young folks, with all their so-called modern advantages, have not been afforded the still greater advantage of a well-ordered home? Is it the fault of father? He may be ever so successful in business, but if his home is an ill-regulated one where no links of affection bind the family his success is a poor affair, after all.

Is it the mother's fault? Has she forgotten that women more than men make the moral atmosphere in which they live? Is she of that unhappy type to be seen at the bridge party, at the theater, at the restaurant, on the boulevard—everywhere but home? Does she forget that children are imitative and that if she runs about in this restless way they will do likewise? She and her husband, with their links and slight show of affection for their children—do

 Dispatches from Russia reveal the discussion within the presidium of the Bolshevik party. Trotsky, it is said, will be ousted from the party because of his tendency toward menapheim. It is not likely, however, that the War Minister, who personally wrote the most stirring polemic against Karl Kautsky and parliamentary Socialism, is, menapheim, should now reverse his political belief. What Trotsky is doing is coping the extremists in the ranks of the Bolshevik party. Lenin and Trotsky both admitted that the era of a Communist, Marxian commonwealth, must be postponed indefinitely and that Russia must devote itself to a gradual superposition of the capitalist mode of society, by way of a transition period. "There can be no Communist state in a capitalist world," was the verdict of the leaders after three or four years' experimentation. "Communism implies universal acceptance," is another maxim and therefore Trotsky counsels the propagation of the soviet system in other countries until the time is reached when it is more generally accepted and Russia can take the next step toward pure socialism. The younger element, who lack the brains of Lenin and the tact of Leon, want to get to militancy at once. Trotsky counsels moderation. For his pains he will be thrown out of the party, if the dispatches are correct. Riga dispatches on Bolshevik doings are sometimes a little of color. RIPLING RHYMES
 ILLUSTRIOUS NAMES
 My cousin's breast is full of woe, he thinks this life is hard, his father named him Edgar Poe, in honor of the bard, and every passing hour or so his gentle soul is jarred. He couldn't write an ode sublime if that would bring him kudos, he couldn't frame a decent rhyme to save himself from jail, and people laugh him all the time, with jocular wit and glee. They meet him by the village kirk and talk about his verse: "The Raven" is your noblest work," says one, "It's not so worse, although grim thoughts within it lurk suggesting abroad and home." "You're right," "The Golden Bough" was your best, it's really pretty fair," and so they spring the ancient jest till Edgar paws the air and reads the buttons from his vest in anger and despair. My quiet cousin has no truck with criminals or crime, although he has a hero's pluck, his patience is sublime, but some day he will run amuck, I'll bet a power time. Some day a wet elm club he'll hire and down the street he'll go, and divers joekers will expire to music and slow; and he'll denounce the writhing sire who named him Edgar Poe to a fearful handicap to any normal skate to bear the name of some dead chap who was unduly great, and any parent is a sap who thus will challenge fate. WALT MASON.

LETTERS TO The Times

Incorrectly Quoted
 NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—(To the Editor of The Times: I in the Sunday morning section of The Times, issue of November 18, I find an advertisement for some date shop, saying, "Lulu Hunt Peters says, 'Eat four dates and drink a glass of buttermilk every time you are hungry or thirsty.' Lulu Hunt-Peters ought to know."

Now, while I appreciate the compliment, I object very much to having excerpts from my writings in the Sunday section of The Times, and suggesting that twelve dates and a quart of skim or buttermilk, divided into four meals for the day, was particularly good. I never have said to eat four dates and a glass of skim milk every time you are hungry or thirsty.

This advice might be followed with benefit by my gaining followers, but my words! I shudder to think what would happen to my readers if they take a glass of buttermilk and four dates every time they are hungry or thirsty! I will appreciate your publishing my letter and saving me the avalanche of reproaches which might fall on my innocent bobbed head.

LULU HUNT PETERS, M.D.

The Dead-Mute Autist
 SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 24.—(To the Editor of The Times: I in the editorial in this morning's Times under the heading, "Examine the Motorists," the writer classes "dead mutts" with those "afflicted with dangerous mania and insanity," which is a grave injustice. There is not a single case on record of a "dead mute" figuring in an automobile accident where the accident was due to deafness of the driver. Nor is there a case recorded where a deaf-mute autist killed anyone. As a matter of fact, the "dead mute" is a safer and more careful driver than the motorist who can hear for the reason that, trained from infancy to depend wholly upon sight, he guides and controls his car with his eyes focused upon the road and the mirror and does not have his attention distracted by the noise of street traffic.

If the writer of that editorial will call up Senator Eden, now living in Los Angeles, and ask him for some information about the deaf and the autist, I feel sure he would willingly write another defense of the deaf-mute autist. JAMES M. PARK.

Safety First
 SANTA MONICA, Nov. 24.—(To the Editor of The Times: In your editorial columns you frequently criticize the police department for not doing better work. Your issue of today advocates the examination of motorists before permitting them to drive upon the streets. No doubt a good idea, but it is not now the law.

Your police have recently become active in attempting to enforce a law which the Legislature is a probably in the right direction, possibly not the best method for regulating traffic, but as it has never been honestly tried out, no one knows how good it is. No law is entirely satisfactory, but we must work with the only instrument we have.

Isn't it a fact that the streets of Los Angeles will not carry its traffic, either speeded up or slowed down?

PARADISE, Nov. 24.—(To the Editor of The Times: I in the editorial in this morning's Times under the heading, "Examine the Motorists," the writer classes "dead mutts" with those "afflicted with dangerous mania and insanity," which is a grave injustice. There is not a single case on record of a "dead mute" figuring

'SNOW QUEEN' IS VISITOR AT KHJ

Globe Ice Cream Company
Has Artists on Program

Numbers by Helen M. Little,
Flutist, Bring Praise

Luigi Rosselli, Tenor, Gives
Surprise to Fans

BY CLAIRE FORBES CRANE

When once we don the ermine and royal purple it is difficult to discard it for the humble vestments of life. Last night at KHJ as though not to be outdone by the "White King," the "Snow Queen" entertained in regal fashion. The palace of the "Snow Queen," as we who have enjoyed her hospitality know, is the Globe Ice Cream Company. Her majesty's social calendar is very full during the holidays. At Thanksgiving there are little fat chocolate ice cream turkeys and pumpkins of orange ice to distribute among her family. Sleighs and reindeer made of frozen cream—cunningly devised holly wreaths—every thought of yours will she turn into ice for you by a wave of her magic wand if you but summon her.

Last evening the Globe Ice Cream Company sent as her escorts to KHJ, the Orpheus Four. Boi Ilopi and his Novelties, Three Charlie Wellman, Uncle Remus, Happy Pullen and Walt Fowler, banjos. Everyone spent a most festive evening led by the other member of royalty in our studio, Charlie Wellman, prince of jazz. The program was arranged by A. M. Berkland.

FLUTIST IS LAUDED

The matinee program presented through the courtesy of the Pacific States Electric Company brought Mary Newkirk Bower, soprano, Joseph Heindl, cellist, and Helen Meade Little, flutist. I had a nice time also on this occasion as I had the pleasure of playing for these fine artists. I am tempted to keep in my own scrap book of past notices that I have written and see if there is any particular adjective of praise which I have not used in connection with Mary Newkirk Bower and Joseph Heindl. But they have passed beyond my little words of admiration until now the name Mary Newkirk Bower conjures up the lilting sweetness of a thrush and Joseph Heindl means the warm emotional song which lingers in the heart of a cello.

Helen Meade Little, who is the vice-president of the Los Angeles Flute Club, did some lovely work as an instrumental which few women dare play. Her embouchure brings a sonority revealing the clear unforced tone which a genuine flute player should possess. At noon in place of our usual orchestra we had a group of eleven people who gave us an hour full of overhauling of all kinds of good things. Charles D. McElroy performed marvels with his tiny harmonica. Isn't it wonderful to stop and think that a little piece of wood and metal, small enough to hold in the palm of your hand, can penetrate every nook and corner of several states simultaneously!

Geraldine Bunta, saxophone, accompanied by Helen Bunta, proved an attractive and popular combination and responded to many scores.

TENOR IS SURPRISE

We are sure that the radio family had a genuine surprise in the tenor voice of Luigi Rosselli, accompanied by Edoth Petesch. We want to save our most enthusiastic applause regarding him for tomorrow night when he will sing again. Suffice it to say that Mr. Rosselli owns a voice which may some day be heard in opera; and acquitted himself splendidly in songs of his own nation.

The "Children's Hour" brought the weekly visit of Sir Richard Hendrick, screen juvenile. Two tiny products from the flower garden of Oliver Eckhardt of the Earl Wallace Studios, Marjorie Love Brodie, and Billy Dana, aged 3 and 4 years, respectively, gave readings while Marshall Steadman was ably represented by Catherine Coffey.

Our own "Little Boy Blue" David Durand, 4-year-old screen juvenile, put his hands gravely behind him and with the utmost confidence told the entire city the sad fate of a dog named Ned, and several other new poems. I want our family to appreciate the fact that with the exception of several nursery rhymes, all of his verses are written by the exceedingly clever mother. That fact may give you an inkling of his heritage. David received his first radio Christmas present and if you will look in the "Canary Chatter" Sunday, you may see an account of it.

Karl Brigid, who is an astonishingly gifted 15-year-old cornetist, played several numbers, accompanied by his mother, and the "House" closed with a bed time story by Uncle John.

WOMAN AND MEN SEEN IN MURDER CAR

Vegetable Peddler Tells of Being Passed Saturday by Haverstick's Auto

A woman and two men were riding Saturday afternoon in the automobile of Archie L. Haverstick, Los Angeles construction foreman, whose body was found near Serra Sunday, according to a story told Sheriff Jernigan of Orange county yesterday.

Max Mirandi, Santa Ana vegetable peddler, told the Sheriff that Haverstick's car, found near the body and now in a Santa Ana garage, passed him near Santa Ana about 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon. He said the driver hurried words at him in passing. This caused him to observe the odd color of the car.

One of the men wore a sailor's uniform, Mirandi said. All sat in the front seat, the woman between the men. They were driving toward San Diego.

He said the driver hurried words at him in passing. This caused him to observe the odd color of the car.

Christensen, McClellan said, related that he and two other sailors had called about two weeks before the killing at the home of Haverstick's parents in Hawthorne, but denied stories that he had attempted to kidnap a 4-year-old child there, the parents of which was in dispute between him and Haverstick.

Haverstick left Los Angeles for San Diego on Friday night and expected to be back by Saturday night, McClellan said.

Twenty-seventh street, where he made his home, said. He said he left alone.

HOTEL LOSS INCREASES

Report Shows Robbers Made Good

Bank at Dumphy Haulery

Three robbers who held up the clerk of the Hotel Barbara, 1927 West Sixth street, early yesterday got considerably more than was at first reported, the police said. They learned last night the robbers forced J. S. Sala, clerk, to open the office safe and hand over its contents, and then they escaped in an automobile. The hotel is owned by Jack Dempsey.

The hotel lost $134 in cash and $274 in checks, the Midway Cafe $350 in cash, the National Jewish Hospital, $1918 cash; Miss Lucile Brown a $105 draft; Miss Alice Erwin, $200 in negotiable bonds; Miss Addie Winchester $170 in cash. The three latter are guests.

APARTMENT MAN FACES 'NUISANCE' LIQUOR CHARGES

Charge that the commissary of the exclusive Gaylord Apartments, 3355 Wilshire Boulevard, opposite the Ambassador Hotel, is operated as a "public nuisance" were filed by Federal prohibition officers yesterday, following the arrest of John A. Whelan, asserted proprietor on three charges of violation of the liquor laws.

It developed that the commissary of the Gaylord was raided by Federal agents Wednesday night, and it further asserted that they found liquor there.

Whelan was arrested, the Federal men asserted, with a quart of whiskey in his possession. His car was confiscated, and later his home at 841 West Thirty-fifth Place was searched and more liquor found. It was asserted.

Whelan was booked at the County Jail on charges of sale, possession and transportation of liquor, in addition to the charge of conducting a public nuisance.

BENEFIT FOR MUSIC

Funds Will Go to Settlement on Musart Street

For the purpose of garnering funds with which to pay off a mortgage due on the little bungalow on Musart street, the directors of the music settlement will give a theatrical entertainment benefit at the Philharmonic Auditorium to-night.

The affair, under the direction of John M. Salapoth, and the program, which promises an evening of delight, will feature dramatic, comedy and music.

The intent of the Los Angeles music settlement is not to foster professionalism among the children, but to develop in them a love for and a knowledge of music.

FIRE SWEEPS HOMES

but a Burglar
Never Came!

... Every night he put a loaded pistol under his pillow to protect his family against burglars. But a burglar never came.

... One day an opportunity to make a very profitable investment was presented to him but he didn't have the necessary cash. Then Mary developed a talent for music but he couldn't afford a musical education for her. When John wanted to go to college he had to go to work instead. Mother lost her health and needed a change but they couldn't afford to travel.

... The only protection he had for them was the plan under his pillow.

... Systematic saving would have given his family and him the things they should have had. True, he tried to save money in a sort of way. When he thought he could spare it, he put a little money in the bank and when he thought he needed it he took a little out. His savings account would grow for a time, stand still, then shrink rapidly—get nowhere. He had no systematic plan—no definite aim and therefore no results.

... The easiest, surest and best way we know of for systematically saving money and insuring the good things of life is by following the "Buy $1000.00 cash on easy payments" plan to real financial prosperity. Thousands of people are doing it. You can. Will you?

GARBUTT SENTENCED TO DIE

Attorneys Give Notice of Appeal for Man Convicted of Murdering Pasadena Matron

Harry Garbutt was sentenced yesterday by Superior Judge Crall to death by hanging in accordance with a jury verdict last week that found Garbutt guilty of the murder of Mrs. Dorothy Lee Hunt, wealthy Pasadena woman who had befriended Garbutt and had obtained his release on parole from prison.

Sentence was passed after Judge Crall had denied a motion for a new trial. Date for the hanging was set by the court at February 13, 1925.

Garbutt's attorneys, Moses Davis and K. K. Scott, immediately gave notice of appeal. The appeal papers will be filed in the District Court of Appeals as soon as possible, they stated.

Garbutt was charged by the prosecution with the murder of the matron who was the only outward evidence of the crime.

CHAMBER PLANS CITY WORK

Secretary Tells Rotary Club Local Development Will Supplant Outside Advertising

A program which contemplates greater development of many lines of local activity rather than increased advertising of the city's advantages to the outside world is the line of effort that has recently been adopted by the Chamber of Commerce and will be pursued from this time on, Arthur G. Arnott, secretary of the chamber, told the Rotary Club at its luncheon at the Biltmore yesterday.

"There are three main problems facing this community today, as we see it," said Arnott. "The first is to provide employment for the people that come here to make their homes by developing our industries, the second, to encourage agricultural expansion, and the third, to build up foreign trade."

For the building up of industry Arnott stated that the chamber believed the wisest policy to be to invite experts in different lines of industry to come here for a thorough study of conditions with a view to placing them in a position to give sound advice to such firms in their line as might be interested in establishing themselves here.

"So far as foreign commerce is concerned," the chamber now is sending out trade emissaries to Central and South America and to Europe to stimulate trade with those countries," he said. "Our trade expansion program also includes similar missionary work calculated to stimulate business throughout the entire territory tributary to Los Angeles."

"For the benefit of agriculture we are lending our co-operation in opening up new farming areas. Possibly some of these will not be in Los Angeles, but it is essential to the continued growth and prosperity of Los Angeles."

NATIONAL CHAMBER

Arthur Bent gave a brief outline of the objects and plan of operation of the National Chamber of Commerce, the western division of which will conduct its annual meeting here next week.

The National Chamber of Commerce is the first agency established to enable business to have a voice in the nation's governmental affairs or other activities of vital importance to business in different sections of the country. The chamber's organization is such that it can reflect the local viewpoint of business men on any question of national importance that may come up for consideration. Its efforts are in large measure responsible for a lessening of the antipathy between big business and the government which a few years ago was a marked characteristic of our national life."

SPECIAL TRAIN WILL BEAR DELEGATES HERE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—A special train leaving San Francisco at 4:10 p.m. Monday will carry delegates from San Francisco to the north to the western business convention of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States at Los Angeles Tuesday and Wednesday. Three special cars from Northern California, Oregon and Washington with delegates en route to Seattle will reach the Oakland mole at 8:10 a.m. Monday, while at least two cars of local representatives will be made up of members of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce and California Development Association.

Delegates arriving from the north will be entertained at luncheon in the Commercial Club at noon Monday by the Chamber of Commerce and at 2 p.m. they will be taken in charge by the California Development Association and escorted to the Ferry Building for a view of the California relief map after which they will be escorted to the special train.

Paul Shoup, a director of the development association, will preside at the convention.

RACE DRIVER INJURED

Crashes Into Wire Across Gate at Acot Speedway

When he attempted to drive on the track at the Acot Speedway yesterday afternoon, Jack Bullock, 31 years of age, a racing driver, crashed into a wire stretched across the entrance to exclude spectators and was seriously injured.

He was rushed to the General Hospital where he was found to be suffering from a possible skull fracture and a compound fracture of the left leg.

Bullock drove in the Thanksgiving Day races at Acot, and was in his racing car at the time of the accident. The car was wrecked. The wire, according to police reports, had been placed by the Acot Company. Police officers were engaged in photographing a race scene.

PRICE, WATERHOUSE & CO.

My Mother told me

Kept close at hand by three generations as a safe guard for health, Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has earned the confidence of thousands of people. "Tried and found true" is as true of this cough remedy as it is of the finest of old family physicians; its enormous patronage is largely due to the fact that it is recommended by friend to friend — and by generation to generation. These people know that it is pleasant to take and brings quick relief.

The following is a typical testimonial received at the Foley & Co. offices in Chicago:

Dear Sirs: I am very well pleased with the wonderful result and relief that Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has brought me. I was bothered with coughing, and my mother told me about your wonderful medicine so I decided to give it a trial. I have tried many other medicines but none are as good and relieving as Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. I have told my friends and they say there is nothing better.

Sincerely, (Signed) E. Boggs.

Pomona, California.
